But one hot afternoon when they came to a glade among a stand of oaks, he said, "I will come..weatherworker had a bag, a great long sack or a little pouch..fought against the will that would destroy us."..Irioth's head drooped as if in utter weariness. All tension and passion had gone out of his body. But he looked up, not at Ged but at Gift, silent in the hearth corner..He went slowly round to the eastern side of the hilltop, bright and warm already with the light of the sun a couple of fingers' width above the horizon. Looking under the sun he saw the roofs of a town at the head of a bay that opened out eastward, and beyond it the high line of the sea's edge across half the world. Turning west he saw fields and pastures and roads. To the north were long green hills. In a fold of land southward a grove of tall trees drew his gaze and held it. He thought it was the beginning of a great forest like Faliern on Havnor, and then did not know why he thought so, since beyond the grove he could see treeless heaths and pastures..bigger than you were," she said. "Can you still make a light, Di? I want to see you."..him that he couldn't despise Hound..wandered the day before, and that perhaps I was even looking from the bottom of the dark..till Diamond was sixteen. A big, well-grown youth, good at games and lessons, he was 'still ruddy-..what he saw. But he saw it, and went forward, word by word..He asked her, rather timidly, to tell him what the Immanent Grove was, for when he had asked others they said, "Ember can tell you." She refused his question, not arrogantly but definitely, saying, "You can learn about the Grove only in it and from it." A few days later she came down to the sands of Thwil Bay, where he was repairing a fishing boat. She helped him as she could, and asked about boat-building, and he told her and showed her what he could. It was a peaceful afternoon, but after it she went off in her abrupt way. He felt some awe of her; she was incalculable. He was amazed when, not long after, she said to him, "I'll be going to the Grove after the Long Dance. Come if you like."..to walk blindly forward through this darkness, in the rustling brash.
